What is the Healthy Water, Healthy People Program? This curricula is a comprehensive water quality education program designed to make complex water quality concepts understandable and relevant for both teachers and students by demonstrating the relationship of water quality to personal, public, and environmental health.

It contains 25 hands-on water quality activities developed by teachers working with water experts. The easy-to-use format allows for classroom or field use. Join us to learn how to conduct water quality testing with your students and learn some great new activities. HWHP provides activities focusing on health, history, math, social studies and of course many areas of science. A reference manual covers 11 common water quality parameters and contains additional activities/demos using testing kits.
